What To Expect

FOR ALL SCHOLARS

Please expect annual communication from your scholars, including a student profile with photo and academic updates. Students will also be sending hand-written thank you letters. You will have an opportunity to send letters and photos to your students twice a year -- usually in June and November. We will be sure to keep you informed of any changes in your student's status.

FOR PRIMARY & SECONDARY STUDENTS

DO NOT Include:
- Your address or city you live in.
- Details about your home or life that they won’t easily relate to.
- Making promises beyond their scholarship donation.
- Political or religious commentary.
- Anything that implies economic status.

DO Include:
- Your name (first only), and names of children or other family members.
- The kind of work/study you do in a way a younger student can relate to, such as “I use my math skills to...” or “I use my science skills to...”
- Hobbies and interests that don’t emphasize economic status.
- Encouragement for them to keep up the good work with their studies.

FOR UNIVERSITY STUDENTS

- You are welcome to connect to your university student via social media, direct mail/e-mail.
- We strongly discourage discussions of wealth or your possessions here in America.
- We firmly ask that you do not make ANY promises, either on your own behalf or for Asante Africa Foundation.

Please note: Asante Africa Foundation is a non-denomination and all-inclusive organization. However, our students, teachers, and communities come from varied religious backgrounds. Any views or opinions expressed by them do not reflect on Asante Africa Foundation’s core values, vision or mission.
