We educate and empower the next generation of change agents, whose dreams and actions transform the future for Africa and the world.

Our Unique Approach Defines Our Identity

- Youth-Driven Youth are at the center of program design and decision-making.
- Focus on Underserved and Overlooked We are not afraid of “hard.” We serve youth in remote, harsh, and conflict-ridden rural environments.
- Inclusion for All Our programs help to elevate some of East Africa’s most marginalized populations, including multiple religions and physical abilities. We place a keen focus on girls while including their male siblings, friends, and community as a part of the system’s solution.
- Think Globally - Act Locally Programs are guided by United Nations Sustainable Development Goals and led by local staff, community leaders, and youth mentors.
- Pay-It-Forward This unique element, universal across all of our programs, creates local and organic ownership, deepens understanding, develops leadership and advocacy, and recognizes youth contributions to community betterment.
- Cross-Border Collaboration Self development and experience is enriched through sharing triumphs, creating partnerships, and building networks across East Africa and around the globe.

Our Accountability of Your Investment

Our programs can only transform the lives of the students through the generosity of our global community. We remain deeply committed to operating with financial efficiency and transparency while we continue to strengthen our programs.

Advocating for Girls’ Rights ~ Judica

At age 14, Judica was able to continue her education through an Asante Africa scholarship instead of undergoing female genital mutilation (FGM) and being married off. She is now a role model in her community, empowered to fight against harmful cultural norms. With her support and entrepreneurial coaching, her father obtained sobriety and started a brick business. Judica has her Bachelor of Arts Degree in Education and advocates against FGM and child marriage.

Bringing Innovation to the Community ~ Khatibu

Khatibu is a young innovator who approaches problems with creativity. He prototyped inexpensive wireless chargers for schools after a fire accident occurred, and experimented with sound-powered street lights in areas without traditional traffic lights after witnessing an accident. Khatibu also serves as the coordinator for green initiatives for efforts such as tree planting, concerts, and environmental education. He credits Asante Africa Foundation’s LEI Summit for his skill development in time management, project planning, self-awareness, and operating as a global citizen.

Gaining Recognition for Impact

Girls Opportunity Alliance, Obama Foundation Leadership Summit

Asante Africa Tanzania changemakers Glory Shayo and Gloria Mushi collaborated with young leaders from around the world at the Obama Foundation Leadership Summit in Chicago. They inspired the crowd with their personal stories of hardships, dreams, ideas, and opportunities, and how they came to be the leaders that they are today.

Magamba Secondary’s Girl-led Club Takes the Win

A Certification and Awards Ceremony was held in Lushoto, recognizing participants in the 2019 business competition as part of our girl-led leadership club initiative. With guidance and support from teachers, mentors, and Asante Africa staff, each girl-led club created an income generating project. Out of 600 students, Magamba Secondary School Club took the win with their fishing and gardening project.
